INTRODUCTION

My name is Shuntell Alston and I am the Founder/President of You're Worth Fighting 4, a 501-c3 nonprofit organization. We're hosting our annual All Cancers Matter Ball. This event not only helps raise funds for You're Worth Fighting 4, but it also will raise awareness for our cause across the community. Our previous events have become the driving force behind helping to empower, uplift, and provide resources and support to cancer patients and their families.

ABOUT US

You're Worth Fighting 4 is a nonprofit organization created to provide moral and financial support to cancer patients and their families to lighten the load of medical and prescription costs. It was founded in 2016 by two-time cancer survivor, Shuntell Alston. She noticed there were so many different types of cancer, but only one major type of cancer was continuously the topic of conversation, breast cancer. She knew that all cancer patients deserved the same access to resources and support. You're Worth Fighting 4 became the beacon of hope and advocate for ALL CANCERS because they all matter.

ABOUT THE EVENT

The All Cancer Matters Ball was created to help raise money to help patients and families pay for medicine, transportation, and other necessities during their fight. A championship belt is given to a nominated patient who has inspired those who are advocates, family members of patients, and the cancer patients themselves. It includes music, a meal, dancing, giveaways, championship award, cancer awareness paraphernalia, a donation box, and a keynote speaker that addresses the importance of staying in the fight of life and never giving up until your dreams and goals are reached no matter what one faces. All proceeds go to helping cover costs for fundraisers, providing every day necessities to patients, prescription costs, and supplies for activities for sit-ins with patients young and old as they go through chemo and hospital stays.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

This year's event has a masquerade theme and will feature a celebrity guest as the keynote speaker in addition to music, and more.

Celebrity Guest

This year's keynote speaker is multi-award-winning actor and cancer advocate, Ron Godfrey. He is the Founder and President of the Jeremiah L. Godfrey Research Foundation. Mr. Godfrey lost his 6-year-old son to brain cancer in November 2022.

Media Coverage

This event will have media on site to provide media coverage and conduct interviews. This event will also be featured in local and national press. E.G.O. Entertainment Network is our media partner and will conduct all media related needs.

E.G.O. Entertainment is a multimedia production and service company established in 2017, comprised of five divisions, JQLM RADIO, E.G.O. MAGAZINE, EGO MANAGEMENT, EGO NEWS, and EGO TV. This company not only provides music, talk shows, and other entertainment with the highest levels of listener satisfaction in mind when it comes to radio, but also provides support, advertising (radio, magazine, news, and television), event services, and other opportunities to help grow businesses and brands all over the world.
